Terrible Accident and Loss Life

RICHMOND Va April 27 A large crowd assembled this morning at the upper [illegible] of the Capitol building where the Supreme Court of Appeals also stood to hear the [illegible] the Mayoralty case. At about eleven o'clock the floor gave way beneath the dense weight precipitating the crowd to the floor below which was the House of Delegates. It is hard at present to ascertain the extent of injuries so great is the excitement but some are killed and large numbers severely injured. The National Monument to Abraham Lincoln.

From the Ellerma of Florence Italy Feb. 2[illegible]

To honor merit is the crowning beauty of greatness. Hardly had the American people recovered from the horror of that assassination which struck down Abraham Lincoln than they applied themselves to the task of raising a sum sufficient to erect at Springfield Illinois a bronze monument which should be worthy of the man whose name is written side by side with that of Washington. The commission being thrown open to competition 32 designs were presented and the honor of preference was bestowed upon that of Mr Larkin G Mead an American sculptor who [illegible] the Italian School the School of Michael Angelo and [illegible] among its pupils. We visited a short time since the studio of Mr Mead and were struck by the manly and commanding figure of the President, through whose noble and majestic countenance shines the great mind which conceived and ultimated the liberty of slaves. The statue colossal in size [illegible] standing erect upon the monument holds in the left hand a scroll upon which is written [illegible] Emancipation and in the right the pen with which Abraham Lincoln erased from the page of human history the disgrace of Slavery. [illegible] to which he dedicated his life there stands at the side of the statue the consular fasces about which is the wreath of glory [illegible] At the foot of the [illegible] At the angles of the monument are placed four groups representing cavalry infantry artillery and the marine. The talent with which Mr Mead has designed the monument and the boldness with which he has modeled this colossal statue reveal in him beyond doubt a profound knowledge of his art. We feel sure that all will admire the work of Mr Mead and will render homage to the memory of Abraham Lincoln who is not only a citizen of America but a citizen of the whole world [illegible] glory to humanity.

It is [illegible] that [illegible] and greatly read in Ireland [illegible] which [illegible] a sort of Irish fatalism at [illegible] ministerial effort to control [illegible] [illegible] against Fenians [illegible] means of silencing [illegible]

The [illegible] the Ma[illegible] Telegraph complains that after serving on the Grand Jury from November 1869 to March 31 1870 he has just received notification to serve as a petit juror for three months more under a penalty of $40. He mildly adds that a little reflection will satisfy anybody that this will not begin to do.

A Sanguinary War Suddenly Ended

[illegible] the San Francisco [illegible] reference to the action of the [illegible] Clerk of Sacramento in refusing to register [illegible] voters and the action of the [illegible] members of the Legislature in relation [illegible] It will be seen that the war which it is implied was declared on the [illegible] has been very suddenly and [illegible]

[illegible] Mandeville [illegible] Wand and Long [illegible] Hall declared war upon the United States [illegible] by pledging to the Sacramento [illegible] all the moral and physical force which should have given them to resist the operation of the Fifteenth Amendment the community was taken by surprise. Another army of a million of men to be raised—another four years contest in prospect. Five hundred thousand more lives to be sacrificed and an additional item of three thousand million dollars to be added to the war debt—these are some of the suggestions which naturally followed in the minds of Californians. The feelings of the President the Cabinet, Congress and the people of the East on finding themselves so suddenly confronted by so formidable an army may of course be more easily imagined than described. Before the President had sufficiently recovered his self possession however to issue Order No 1 of the new series the necessity for doing so ceased as suddenly as it had arisen.

Mr Brown the County Clerk was an uncompromising defender of the Southern cause during the war but he happens to possess an ordinary share of common sense. He had not refused to register colored men as had been assumed, and when he saw the character of the "support" with which he was threatened he at once dismissed all doubts if he entertained any and determined to do nothing of the kind. With Mandeville as Commander in Chief Wand as Secretary of State and Long Primer Hall as Secretary of the Treasury Mr Brown was unable to discern anywhere in the distance victory perching upon the banner. He concluded to attend to his duties as County Clerk and leave the overthrow of the Constitution to his successor in office. On Saturday two colored men—one a native of Virginia and the other of Kentucky applied to be registered, and Mr Brown after administering the usual oath placed their names upon the great register. In doing so he stated that he considered it clearly his duty to pursue that course, and vowed his determination to do his duty in accordance with the supreme law of the land. It is believed that the army under General Mandeville will be disbanded without even taking Mare Island or Alcatraz.

Particulars of the extraordinary phenomenon of the sinking of St John harbor are given in the New Brunswick papers. It appears that on the morning of the 17th inst. a strange noise was heard similar to that accompanying an earthquake. As its rumbling ceased many were seen [illegible] from their beds and on going down to the harbor, found that a startling change had taken place in the appearance of the lands and wharves. The tide was nearly down and though it was quite dark, it could be seen that the old ferry landing, which should be several feet above the water, had vanished. Coram's wharf had nearly disappeared. One part of the wharf had been filled with deals. This portion did not break down as though the bottom on which it [illegible] had been washed out, as at first supposed but a piece about twenty by seventy feet broke off and [illegible] squarely down into the water and the whole mass, with the top of the wharf beneath and the deals remaining upon it floated away into the harbor where it was afterwards picked up. Near where a portion of the wharf settled away, or where a [illegible] sized vessel used to ground at low water, there is now between six and seven fathoms at low tide. As the tides rise and fall about thirty feet in St. John harbor it may be inferred that the bottom sunk as much as nine or ten fathoms. It was thought before soundings were made, and the falling tide revealed the extent of the changes made that the slide was caused by the shifting of sand which had washed over the bar, but that theory is now exploded and the fact fully established that the phenomenon was caused by some subterranean action beneath the spot affected so materially.

The news from Spain do not encourage the belief that the conscription riots are of trifling significance. It appears, on the contrary that the disturbances are serious and widespread. Barcelona in the northwest, is not worse than is Andalusia in the south. In Barcelona the uprising was of such a character that the Captain General found himself quite unable to resist it. General Balrich had in consequence been sent to the scene to take command of the national troops. At Seville, in the south large crowds had come in from the neighboring villages. The cry was loud, Down with the conscription! Live the republic! A little more of this, and there will at least be some life in Spain whatever the final result.

He is commissioned as a catechist by the Rev M Hinman, of the Indian Mission located above. This Indian seems deeply interested in his work and is believed to be accomplishing much good among his people. A few Sundays ago this Indian preacher appeared one morning at the Episcopal Church [illegible] having walked the distance of six miles or more for the purpose of being present to partake of the Holy Communion.

Railroad Matters Gross Misstatements Exposed and Corrected

[illegible] the Herald [illegible] appeared [illegible] railroad matters [illegible] which has [illegible] and statements [illegible] In order to expose them [illegible] in [illegible] line

We are in receipt of a private letter from a gentleman in Washington from which we clip some interesting facts relating to the Bobtail Boomerang Railroad bill of Senator Williams. As we stated [illegible] some time ago the whole thing is a humbug scheme gotten up by Williams at the instigation of Ben Holladay. The history of Oregon railroad matters is too generally rehearsed by our correspondent, and we [illegible] facts as set out in his letter. Last spring some time a bill was introduced in the House by Hon J S Smith granting lands to a proposed railroad from Portland to Astoria [illegible] Afterwards, when it became apparent that the land grant in dispute between the O C R R (east) and O C R R (west) would fall to the East Side Company, Mr Smith introduced a bill providing for a grant of a like amount for the West Side Company Both bills were referred to the Committee on Public Lands When Williams Bobtail Boomerang bill passed the Senate it became apparent that Mr Smith's two proper bills would be defeated by the Radicals through Williams' influence Mr Smith then tried to get Williams' bill amended in committee by continuing the West Side road beyond McMinnville and to the head of the valley He had succeeded in getting the sub committee to agree to report such an amendment to the Committee on Public Lands and it would have been adopted but Williams heard of it and went to Fitch, of Nevada, who had the bill in charge and represented that his agreement with Holladay would not permit him to allow such an amendment, and that his (Williams') chances of re-election would be prejudiced by its being made Upon this Fitch changed his mind and refused to favor the amendment urged by Mr Smith. The Committee therefore reported Williams' bill as offered It will thus be seen that the Bobtail Boomerang Railroad is a mere humbug, gotten up at the instance of Ben Holladay, to defeat the west side enterprise and leave the control of railway matters in Oregon entirely in his hands We hope the people of the west side counties will bear this in mind when they go to the polls next June

1 As to the allegation that "the whole thing is a humbug scheme gotten up by Williams at the instance of Ben Holladay" Here are the facts Last fall Mr. Gaston, President of the west side company, went East with a view of obtaining aid for the construction of the road which he represents His mission embraced the two-fold object of securing such a grant of lands as would serve as a basis of credit for the bonds of the company, and obtaining the aid of capitalists for the prosecution of the enterprise It had become apparent that the grant already made by Congress would fall to the east side company, and Mr Gaston therefore turned his attention in another direction He found on examination that a land grant could not be secured for the west side to the head of the Wallamet valley, for the reason that such a grant would overlap the one already made, and for the further reason that by the express terms of the former grant no additional grant could be made for a road southward through the valley. For it will be remembered that when the act to revive this grant, which was about to expire by limitation of law, came up in the Senate, certain Senators insisted that an amendment should be inserted to provide that but one company should have a grant, and the act could pass only on this condition. Such being the state of the case Mr Gaston at once saw that it would be impossible to obtain a grant for another road which would run for sixty or eighty miles on a line parallel with the east side road and but ten or fifteen miles from it. In such a case the one road would be located almost wholly within the limits of the land grant to the other If a bill of this character were proposed, can any suppose that, with Thurman, Casserly and all the Democrats assailing it, there could be any hope for its passage? It therefore devolved on Mr Gaston to try some other plan. He consulted with persons at Washington in whom he had confidence, he saw Judge Olney of Astoria, and they two formed the plan on which the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville bill was drawn up Mr Gaston agreed that this was the best thing for the west side that could be done, and gave his opinion that the grant thus asked for would be a very valuable one When they had completed their bill they took it to Senator Williams, who introduced it in the Senate for them and fought it through in spite of Democratic opposition As for the assertion that it is a "humbug scheme gotten up by Williams," we can state on our own personal knowledge that it was originated in the way we have described We saw the copy of the bill at Mr. Gaston's room in Washington, in his own handwriting and that of Judge Olney, before it was placed in Williams' hands and before he ever saw it. As for the assertion that it was gotten up "at the instigation of Ben Holladay," we know that Mr Holladay never thought of the scheme or heard of it till his arrival at Washington last winter, after the bill had already been drawn up and introduced in the Senate

2 It is represented that Smith's amendment to continue the grant from McMinnville to Eugene City was killed "by the influence of Williams with the Radicals," and that Williams stated that his "agreement with Holladay would not permit him to allow such an amendment" With men who have no conscience, and who are working for a partisan triumph through repudiation of the public debt, there is no check to slander and misrepresentation Mr. Smith's amendment, for the reasons we have already stated, never had the smallest chance of being adopted Judge Williams could not have secured the adoption of that amendment had he tried with all his might Who but a purblind partisan or an idiot could suppose that Congress would make a grant to one railroad company of lands which had already been granted and certified to another? Smith's scheme was gotten up entirely for buncombe He knew it was utterly absurd, but his object was to delay or defeat the original bill and then throw the blame on the Republicans He has succeeded in delaying but he cannot defeat it When the bill came up in the House a short time ago it would have passed at once had it not been for the introduction of this ridiculous amendment by Smith This stopped proceedings, and the bill must now wait for its turn in the order of business Had Smith let it alone it would have been put through the House as it was put through the Senate, by Republican votes in spite of Democratic opposition But when he began to meddle with it the Republican members said at once that it would not do to take a bill from the table out of its order, in which an opposition member was interesting himself, and pass it, while other bills of like character, introduced by Republican members had to wait for the order of business This is just what is keeping the bill back But it will certainly pass as soon as it can be reached though all the Democratic members oppose it in the House as they did in the Senate

As to the allegation that Judge Williams stated that his agreement with Mr Holladay would not permit him to allow the adoption of Smith's amendment [illegible] could be more untrue or slanderous We have fully shown that Mr Holladay had nothing to do with the bill [illegible] with Judge Williams [illegible] agreement as to railroad matters between them [illegible] Senator Williams has [illegible] what ever for Mr Holladay and the latter is under no obligation to him This whole outcry has grown out of the fact that Judge Williams in pursuance of his duty as a Senator and looking to the interests and development of Oregon succeeded in getting through Congress a bill to revive a land grant which had expired and must else have been lost to the State Two railroads were building and the one controlled by Mr Holladay succeeded in completing the first twenty miles and got the grant That is all there is of it If the grant did not belong of right to Mr Holladay why did the late Democratic Legislature designate his company? Why did Mr Stout Mr Bellinger Mr Ford, and other prominent Democrats become parties to a scheme which such papers as the Herald now denounce as a base bargain and wholesale corruption?

City and County Government

The petition designed to be presented to the Legislature, asking for the consolidation of the governments of the city of Portland and the county of Multnomah, with a view of curtailing expenditures and reducing taxation, has been signed already by many citizens The object of the movement, economy and retrenchment is a very worthy one We are not aware that any plan has as yet been proposed on which such consolidation may be effected and would be glad to open our columns for communications from any person who has anything to propose on the subject

It is well to look at this proposition in a practical manner We do not intend to offer any objection to it, but would be glad if a way could be devised to make it practicable and effective There are, however, certain difficulties in the way, which it is right to consider

First, it is to be observed that the city government may be altered or abolished, but there can be no material alteration in the county government. The former rests on statutes, the latter is fixed in the Constitution Hence no material changes can be made in the structure of county government The Constitution provides that there shall be elected in each county for the term of four years a county judge, that a county clerk and sheriff shall be chosen in each county for the term of two years, and these officers shall perform certain duties, a portion of which are prescribed in the Constitution itself In many other parts of that instrument county organization is referred to The general features of county government are thus fixed and unalterable Strictly speaking, therefore the governments of the city and county can not be consolidated. The former may be abolished, or possibly may be made to conform to the latter, but this is all that can be done.

Now the question to be decided is, can the county government be made to subserve municipal purposes? The whole municipal business, it will be perceived, must be done through the county court Will the county government be adapted to police regulations, to providing for street improvements, and to the multitude of details in the transaction of municipal affairs? We put these questions simply to bring the matter under public inquiry, and do not intend at this time to elaborate them.

Another consideration, however, we may mention The area of Multnomah county, outside of the city, is considerable The population of these country districts is already quite large, and is rapidly increasing In case it is decided to merge the city and county governments into one, the people in the country will be forced to submit to taxation for municipal purposes We in the city could not complain of that, but people in the country would be likely to do so They would not very willingly be taxed to meet the expense of regulating and governing the city We should suppose that people east of the river would be very likely to move for a county government of their own

Expenses might, undoubtedly, be very considerably reduced in several ways by the abolition of the system of double government. Nevertheless it will always cost more to govern the city than the country and the question is whether the country people will be willing to help us to pay it

Some practicable plan may perhaps be devised to meet the difficulties of the case But as one who is worthy to be everybody's political mentor says "Before we pull down what is already established it is the part both of prudence and wisdom to ascertain what better we can erect in its stead

Editorial Notes

A letter from one of the Oregon Senators at Washington contains the following "The bill to enforce the Fifteenth Amendment published and commented on by the Oregon Herald, is a fraud No such bill has passed either House" This is just as we supposed Democratic journalism is capable of this sort of things

Col Kelly's great man, "Bill" Newby has been here several days trying to raise money to keep his "imports" in Yamhill The Col has had a desperate time in "shinning round" to get it Newby's "imports" are desperately hungry and it's as much as his life is worth to go back to Yamhill without provender for them

A city contemporary asks "Why don't the Council be decent and invest public money in public improvements instead of granting subsidies to individuals?" The very question we used to put repeatedly to the Council two or three years ago, when, instead of investing public money in public improvements it was granting an extravagant subsidy to maintain a Democratic organ in the city

A fellow calling himself "Jones" got up at a Democratic meeting on Wednesday night, and stated that a Republican in Yamhill had "offered him $100 to forsake his principles" Mr "Jones" is simply advertising himself for sale But he has fixed his price entirely too high He would be a dear bargain at one tenth of the sum And he will find no Republican who would offer him that If he thinks to get money by this dodge he will be wofully mistaken

It is now pretty well established that the Albany Democrat can neither persuade provoke, tantalize nor bully the Portland organ into a reply to its furious attacks on the latter for the "arrant nonsense" of its articles in fa[illegible] charter [illegible] and bringing [illegible] the party [illegible] agent is a candidate [illegible] lives in a glass house and can't afford to throw stones [illegible] the election Hence it conveniently [illegible] the [illegible] eighth resolution, and [illegible] talk of nothing else [illegible] than on railroads

It was the action of the late Democratic Legislature that enabled Mr Holladay to get the land grant on which he is building his railroad Mr Holladay's company was the one designated by that Legislature to receive it notwithstanding the west side company claimed to have been designated by the preceding Legislature which was Republican Yet it is now asserted by some of the Democratic organs that Mr Holladay obtained the land grant by means of a corrupt bargain in which Senator Williams was concerned Did not the same bargain then include the late Democratic Legislature? Will these organs tell us how much of Ben Holladay's money it took to buy up the incorruptible Democratic members of that Legislative Democratic body?

Ben Hayden delivered a speech at Dallas on Monday, the peroration of which is described in the Democratic organs as most "touching" It was terribly trying on the lachrymal glands The salt of unbidden tears left their flushing in many a gallant eye unused to weep Many a manly bosom heaved with an emotion as deep as moving, as irresistible as the swell of the rolling billows of ocean Manly cheeks were suffused with the briny secretion, which flowed like sea water from the scuppers of a noble ship in a storm. Men rushed into each other's arms and wept down each other's backs in an ecstasy of emotion Sighs came thick and fast and deep and sonorous, resembling the thunder that accompanies a summer's rain Even Ben himself, dirty Ben, the author and mover of this tempestuous agitation, blubbered with the rest and got his face washed by the operation Down his manly cheeks the tears coursed their way, making little furrows, and causing his face to resemble that of the noble savage, on whose frontispiece are so often seen the delicate chevrons vermilion, parting at the nose bridge The occasion of all this was that Ben got into one of his soaring moods, expatiated on the beauties of "equitable adjustment," assailed in his more than usually chaste language the "nigger" and the lying Radical newspapers, and wound up by leaving his auditory right in the midst of the Confederate elysium

A good joke is told of an immigrant who proposed settling in that county, who asked "What county is this?" "It is Umatilla" was the response "Is this said he is the county where they pay twenty eight mills on the dollar in taxes ain't it?" CITY.

TAXATION OF CHURCH PROPERTY.—The question as to whether the town lots in a Church yard which are not actually covered by the Church buildings are liable to taxation was argued before Judge Upton, in Chambers yesterday in the case of The First Baptist Church of Portland vs Albert Zeiber, Sheriff of Multnomah county. The law of this State says that houses of worship and the lots on which they stand when used for religious purposes only, are exempt from taxation. The enclosure in which the Baptist Church stands comprises four town lots, on one of which the Church edifice stands—the Assessor assessed the other three as liable to be taxed. The case above mentioned was brought to restrain the Sheriff from collecting such tax. The case is a new one, the question having never been raised before in this State, and as most if not all the Churches in this city owning lots which are used as Church yards, desired a test case for all, this has excited considerable interest. Mr C A Ball appeared on behalf of the Baptist Church and ex Governor A. C. Gibbs on the part of the Sheriff. After hearing the arguments of the counsel the Court ordered that the Sheriff be restrained until further orders—as the final decree of the Court cannot be given until the regular term time. But the question may be regarded as finally settled.

IMPERTINENT WHISKY.—An impertinent keg of whisky approached a couple of gentlemen on Front street yesterday, and commenced a dissertation on the subject of brains. The gentlemen walked off and left the keg standing on the sidewalk, when it turned about and commenced a tyrade of abusive words upon a merchant. Mr. [illegible] thought he would move the impertinent whisky along, but it wouldn't go, and accidentally tipped over, when the fact was revealed that the keg contained some claret and a policeman was called to move it off, as contraband of business interests. The keg will go through a transitional process in jail, and appear this morning before Recorder Anderson in its true state [illegible] drunkard accused of disorderly conduct on the street.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—Grand W C T Beal, under date of April 22d, informs us that on that evening he organized Monmouth Lodge No 121, I O G T, at Monmouth College, Polk county, with the [illegible] of a large delegation from Dallas. The officers of the new Lodge are N H Butler, W C T; O Hutchinson, W. R. S., J Nichols, W. L. S; Miss Laura Lindsay, W V T, George Bidwell, W., S; Ed Kramer, W A S, H Lindsay, W. F. S.; Miss Francis Boone, W. T, W A Waterhouse, W. M, H M Cooper, W D M, A. Gasner, P. W. C T, Jas Campbell W. C, Mrs. H. Lindsey, W. I. G, W. L Huggins, W O G; H. Lindsay, L D. The Good Templars have [illegible] the 7th of May at Rock Creek Camp Ground, in Marion county.

REAL ESTATE.—The following is a list of real estate transfers since our last issue:

J. C. Hawthorne to R. Glisan, all of block 9 in Caruthers' addition—$400.

R. J. Northrop and wife to R. Glisan, all of block 3, in Caruthers' addition—$1,000.

Daniel S. Dunbar and wife to David Parks, a portion of section 27, township 3, east of range 1 north—$1,100.

R. L. Quimby and wife to George Johnson, blocks 232 and 231 $400.

[illegible] L. Stout to W W Upton, lots 7 and 8, in block 177—$200.

Holloway Yocum and wife to J. A. Tyler, lot 4, in block 157—$750.

THE NEW YORK PACKET LINE.—Upon being requested to do so we applied to Messrs. McCraken, Merrill & Co. yesterday for information regarding the New York line of packets to this city, and learned that no vessel had been put on the berth there for Portland since the Ida F Taylor, for the reason that freight offering had been very light, and charters for San Francisco ruling so low, frequently as far down as ten cents per foot, which is less than freight to Portland from San Francisco, that ship owners are not disposed to charter for Oregon. It is expected, however, that a vessel will call for the ninth vessel—the [illegible] being the eighth—when one will be placed on the berth.

A COASTING VISIT.—Mr. A S Mercer and party, who lately started on a coasting visit to Tillamook, returned last evening. They report themselves highly refreshed and well paid for their trip. They were two days reaching Tillamook Bay from Astoria. Spent ten days in prospecting, and returned by way of the trail to Dayton in [illegible] days, thence by steamer to Portland. Work on the road over the coast mountains is being pushed as fast as the people of Tillamook can afford it. Their enterprise is deserving of State and National aid. That region is abundantly able to maintain a population quite equal to the [illegible] whole number of inhabitants in Oregon.

THEATRICAL.—Milton Nobles, late leading man in the Bates dramatic company, also Mrs R H Cox, of the same, arrived last night per steamer California. Mr. Nobles immediately set to work at organization of a company for a comedy performance at the Oro Fino Theater, on Saturday evening, the 30th. Mr and Mrs Geo F Bird, Mrs Cox and Mr. Nobles, all established favorites will appear. We understand that a local extravaganza, written by a gentleman of this city, will be produced on this occasion.

GROWING AND IMPROVING.—There are at least twenty houses in process of erection on the north-west extreme of the city limits. A walk in that quarter yesterday reminded us of the early days of some of the most prominent western cities. [illegible] the work of grading grubbing, burning out stumps, building, etc., a large numbers of men find employment in that vicinity, and many men of limited means have found homes for themselves.

FORCE INCREASING.—As fast as the work progresses, so as to permit of additional force being employed upon the grade of the Oregon and California railroad at East Portland, we observe that more cars are put into the train. Yesterday, six cars were employed in moving earth to the line of the road across the bottom.

NEW WHARF BOAT.—Ship carpenters are employed at the O. S. N. Co.'s ship yard in this city laying down the kelson for a new wharf boat for the Cascades, 190 feet long by 28 feet beam, and six feet depth of hold. The house on the wharf boat at present in use at the Cascades will be transferred to the new boat.

SAMARITAN DELEGATES.—Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., at the regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening, appointed J N Dolph, J. H. Lyon, R St. John, C C Phillips, C H Marvin and John C Carson delegates to represent her in the Grand Lodge, to be held in this city next month.

APPEALED.—In the matter of the case of Stoner & Neal vs Ed Wicks, civil action by jury, in Justice Bull's court, judgment was rendered for the plaintiffs, and an appeal has been taken to the Circuit Court. Lansing Stout and John C Work for plaintiffs, Mitchell & Dolph for defendant.

HORSE TRAINING.—A man was out on Front street yesterday training a horse a la Rarey when the animal took fright and dashed out of the wharf in the rear of the American Exchange and had to be coaxed back. He beat his master and was led off by the bridle reins.

YACHT CLUB.—Mr George F Bowman Secretary of the Portland Yacht Club, gives notice to-day that on the 7th of May the yacht season will be duly inaugurated by the first regular meeting at the Yacht Club room. Refit and repair for a pleasant season.

ST. TAMMANY'S DAY.—One of the days commemorated by the Independent Order of Red Men is the 12th of May, and the proposed ball to be given by the Tribe in this city, for the benefit of of their charitable fund has been postponed until that time.

THE DAY OF GRACE.—Sheriff Al Zieber gives notice to-day that after the 1st of May he will have to force the collection taxes delinquent by levy and sale of real estate. This will increase the cost. Better arrange to pay up to-morrow.

LABOR EXCHANGE.—Since our last weekly report of the Labor Exchange, twenty applications for situations have been made, including three farm hands, four fishermen, thirteen gardeners, teamsters, wood-choppers, etc.

LUMBER.—The schooner Adelaide, two days from Westport, under sail, with 40,000 feet of lumber, from West's mills for L. White, arrived on Wednesday evening.

GERMAN SCHOOL.—The German school in this city for which arrangements have recently been made, will open on Monday morning, in the building selected on Third street, between Morrison and Yamhill streets.

HEAVY STONE.—[illegible] stone from the Cementville quarry was discharged from the schooner [illegible] yesterday which [illegible] a large part [illegible] pulled up to [illegible] the wharf.

SHORT FREIGHTS.—Owing to the increased offerings of freight yesterday including a large number of sheep the [illegible] was substituted for the trip in place of the regular packet [illegible].

SUNDAY EXCURSION.—The Fannie Troup will give an excursion to Vancouver on Sunday. Particulars in advertisement to-morrow.

Biographical Sketch of the Life of Prof John A Veatch

Prof John A Veatch was born in Kentucky in the year 1808. Some of the chief incidents of his life have been related by himself in private conversation to Dr C H Rafferty and brothers. In these pleasant entertainments he unfolds the vicissitudes of his fortune and the peculiarities of his character with great strength and clearness. At an early period in the history of his life he seemed to have labored under many disadvantages and embarrassments in acquiring knowledge. Born of poor parents, in a sparsely settled portion of Kentucky without the aid of books and such other facilities as are necessary to true progress, he gradually wended his way meeting every difficulty with a determination to satisfy the craving desire of his restless brain. Often has he remarked that the intimate friends of the family and even his own father would speak [illegible] to the course which he had a desire to pursue in his young days.

Searching for and perusing all the works he could obtain on Natural History as well as his father's library (which was mostly composed of theological works he being a Baptist minister) he made a rapid progress without the aid of friend or teacher. He commenced the study of medicine very early in life in fact too early for graduation but when time brought around his 21st year he was eminently qualified for the degree of "Doctorem in arte medica." But notwithstanding he had received the title of M. D he considered himself too young for the responsibilities of a medical man. Therefore he did not enter the field of practice, but going aboard a boat belonging to an uncle worked his way down into Louisiana where he was employed by an aristocratic slave holder to instruct his two boys in "Euclid." Although he had no recollection of having ever looked into a work on geometry he became master of the first book before he slept on the night of his acceptance in the family, and was well qualified to instruct the young Southerners in their lessons the next day. This seems to be the starting point in his proficiency as a topographical engineer.

He became quite a favorite in the family and the gentleman of the plantation used his influence in securing him a school, which he taught for two years. During his stay here he became attached to one of the daughters of this family whom he married, and who bore him seven children.

Learning of the beautiful climate and fertile fields of Texas, he migrated there and settled on a farm not far from the Capital of the State, living upon this farm about the time of the war between Mexico and the United States. He then obtained an appointment in the employ of the the Government as physician and surgeon, taking an active part in the prosecution of this contest, holding different positions from time to time as occasion required.

After leaving Mexico and resigning his position in the Government service, the gold excitement of California broke out and his attention was drawn in that direction. Being one of the earliest explorers in the mineral productions of that State, he made himself familiar with every metal that existed there. One of his greatest discoveries was that of Borax Lake, in Lake county, California, which has been of vast importance to the people of the United States, and especially those living on the Pacific coast.

Although he did not realize financially what he should have had from this deposit of wealth, yet this did not detract from his mind the great object he had in view—the benefit of mankind and not himself. During his stay in California he lost his wife whom he had brought from Texas with him. His children being old enough to take care of themselves, he engaged with and was part of an incorporated company to induce immigration to California from Germany, and colonize for the purpose of working important quartz ledges which existed there. In this great and important undertaking he failed. But he was not one of those who despond at every failure—it only seemed to stimulate him to something else with a double vigor and more intense determination. During his services in the employ of this company to which he belonged, he became acquainted with a lady of fine attainments and capabilities, whom he took for his second wife. He was married in New York. Taking his wife with him he returned to California and from there he came to Oregon, thinking he might be of some service to the investigation of the mineral resources of this State. The first year of his life in Oregon was spent at Salem, the Capital of the State. Arriving there about the time of the assemblage of the Legislature, in the fall of 1868, he made an effort to get a bill through the Legislature to appropriate funds for the purpose of exploring and investigating the geology, mineralogy and botany of Oregon. But not succeeding in this design he determined to stay with the people until the meeting of the Legislature of 1870. During his stay in Salem he was elected to the chairs of Chemistry, Toxicology and Materia Medica, delivering a course of lectures on each of these branches, with much credit to himself and benefit to the medical students of Wallamet University. It is here that we became acquainted with him, and it is only through the intimate relations that have existed between us since that time that we have been enabled to say anything about his previous history.

Though born in humble station in life, he raised himself by the mere exertions of his mind to the highest pitch of intellectual greatness. The originality of his genius, the energy of his language and the richness of his imagination, merited the gratitude as well as the admiration of his fellow men. But his highest efforts, in which the tide of human feelings seemed to flow in deep and exhaustless channels, failed to soften the avarice of a mean and selfish aristocracy. Like the native and lonely hill, he was subject to every blast and exposed naked and bare to every tempest. He was an elevated point round which the storm clung and gathered a prominent rock, condemned by nature, as it were, to endure the buffetings of the surge. Yet his splendor remained unimpaired amidst the bitter waters of indigence and sorrow, of drudgery and neglect. He set forth his discoveries for the benefit of mankind; his only wish was that what little he had acquired during a long life of study could be instilled into others so that his time and patience would not have been spent in vain.

DR C H RAFFERTY AND BROTHER.

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY WASHINGTON LODGE No 46 A F & A M ON THE DEATH OF BRO JOHN A VEATCH.

WHEREAS It has pleased the Supreme Grand Master in his infinite wisdom, to remove by death our worthy brother Professor John A. Veatch, we bow in humble submission to the Divine behest, and in some measure supply the void by the sad consolation of expressing our reverence for his many virtues and our high appreciation of his eminent services and abilities distinguished by scientific researches and marked mental endowments.

AND WHEREAS We who have had the pleasure of knowing him intimately consider it our duty to place upon record our sense of the severe loss thereby sustained by the community in which he resided, to whom his many virtues had affectionately endeared him, therefore be it

Resolved That in the death of brother John A Veatch the Fraternity recognize the sorrowful fact that a bright and shining light has been extinguished that from his varied attainments acquired by the most patient labor the closest observations and industrious application, joined with a remarkable degree of intelligence science has sustained a loss of no ordinary magnitude, which this the comparatively undeveloped State of his adoption, cannot overestimate.

Resolved That in the hearts of those of us whose privilege it was to meet him in the social circle of private life and the fraternal gathering of the brethren of the Mystic Tie the remembrance of his strict integrity his kind and gentle heart his unassuming dignity and lofty simplicity of character shall ever be most tenderly cherished as a secret monitor admonishing us, "go thou and do likewise."

Resolved, That we sincerely tender to the relatives of the deceased our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be furnished to the relatives of our deceased brother, and a copy be furnished to each of the daily papers of Portland. By order of Lodge

East Portland, Ogn., April 27, 1870

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY MISTLETOE GROVE No 3, U A O D, AT ITS REGULAR SESSION, ON THE DEATH OF BRO JOHN A VEATCH.

WHEREAS, Since our last regular meeting the messenger of death has invaded our sacred Grove, and taken from our midst a worthy and much respected brother of our order, whose remains we have just followed with sorrow and lamentation to their final repose, and

WHEREAS It is meet and proper that we give expression to our feelings [illegible] by this sudden and melancholy event, therefore be it

Resolved, That while we humbly submit to the will of the Great Ruler of the universe yet with deep heartfelt anguish we mourn the loss of our esteemed brother.

Resolved, That by the death of Prof John A Veatch this Grove has lost the aid of a practical and earnest supporter, Chemical Science, Geology and literature a distinguished, learned and devoted advocate, the community at large a noble and kind benefactor and patron.

Resolved, That we extend to the afflicted family relatives and friends of our deceased Brother in their sorrow occasioned by this sad bereavement, the sincere sympathy of each and every member of this Grove.

Resolved, That the members of this Order wear the usual badge of mourning, and that the Hall be draped in mourning for six months.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased and copies forwarded for publication in the daily and weekly Herald and Oregonian and the Evening Commercial.

Shaking and Burning.

It is not necessary to journey from the tropics to Alaska in order to experience the extremes of heat and cold. Thousands undergo all the inconveniences of this thermometrical change every day or every other day as the case may be without the trouble of moving over the threshold. A word with those unfortunate shakers. What are they doing to expedite their return to a medium temperature? To break the chills and banish the fever? Are they dosing themselves with quinine thereby impairing [illegible] their nervous system? Some of them are no doubt, but the majority [illegible]. The value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a harmless and certain specific for fever and ague is understood and appreciated in all parts of the country where intermittents prevail. The residents of such localities begin to take it early in the spring as a protection against the miasma by which they are surrounded—not all of them perhaps, for a blind adherence to error is the speciality of some people, but the greater number.

If there is any fixed fact in therapeutics it is this: that the Bitters are a far better safeguard against all the varieties of periodical maladies [illegible] than any drug or compound in the [illegible] of the profession. This assertion is made with all due respect to the faculty, but being an important truth and one that concerns the health of large settlements in various parts of the country, [illegible] fearlessly [illegible] ample [illegible] approval.

It breaks up chills and fevers as well as prevents them; there is nothing so reliable as this [illegible] remedy.

The unlimited and always increasing public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions. The sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of this merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice.

Little Feet

In castle halls, or cottage homes,
Wherever guileless children roam,
O, there is nothing half so sweet
As the tread of little feet.

The [illegible] the [illegible] can't repeat
The [illegible], the organ's power
Akin to the soul, but none so deep
As [illegible] tread of little feet.

When forth we go at early morn,
To meet the world and brave its scorn,
Adown the garden walk so neat,
We see the prints of little feet.

At eve, when homeward we repair,
With aching limbs and [illegible] care,
Two voices ring out clear and sweet—
Then comes the rush of little feet.

The kisses are lost, the [illegible] stray
The [illegible] are sprite[illegible]
And when we go the last [illegible] week
We take the trail of little feet.

But when the Angel Death [illegible]
And called the flowrets to our [illegible]
Oppressive silence reigns complete;
We miss the sound of little feet.

Then souls are safe, no [illegible] stray,
No [illegible] all the day;
But O, 'twould give us pleasure sweet
To hear again those noisy feet.

Soft night hath come, all are asleep,
Yes, all but me—I vigil keep;
Hush! hush! my heart, and cease to beat—
Was that the step of little feet?

Yes, mother, 'tis the softened tread
Of him you miss and mourn as dead,
And often, in your sweetest sleep,
You'll dream of hearing little feet.

And when this pilgrimage is o'er,
And you approach that blissful shore,
The first to run your soul to greet,
Will be your darling's little feet.

Religion in California.

The Roman Catholic Church numbers in California 1 archbishop, 1 bishop, 124 priests, 29 students for the priesthood, 102 houses of worship, besides 17 chapels and stations, 36 schools, including 5 colleges, in all having over 8,000 pupils. It has also 6 asylums, 4 hospitals, and 8 convents. It holds enormous properties, draws heavily upon the purses of its members, and works it affairs with the precision of machinery. "Sadlier's Catholic Almanac for 1870" estimates the Catholic population of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles at 30,000, and the whole number in the State can hardly fall short of 100,000.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has in California 113 preaching stations, 120 preachers (including probationers,) 5,200 members, and 146 Sunday-schools, with nearly 9,000 scholars. It has also 93 church buildings and 55 parsonages, valued at $990,000. The University of the Pacific owns a valuable propery near San Jose.

The Episcopal Methodist Church South has 50 societies, 51 ministers, 3,385 member, 23 church building and 23 parsonages, valued at $110,000. They have a prosperous college at Vacaville, Solano County, and an academy at Visalia. The Methodist bodies comprise nearly a third of the Protestants in the State. During the last year, the Southern wing gained nearly 600 members; the Northern wing fell off a trifle.

The Old and New School Presbyterians have just been rejoicing over their reconstructed Union—a happy and honorable event for both, as a wider union would be for all Protestant Christendom. In California they have 88 preachers and 42 churches, with 2,600 members and 3,500 Sunday scholars. The aggregated amount raised in a year by the 42 congregations for their own expenses is given at $6,000.

The Cumberland Presbyterians also claim 1,200 members—chiefly in the interior counties.

The Congregationalists—who differ from the Presbyterians chiefly in the simple democracy of their Church government—report 49 ministers, 48 churches, with a membership of 2,121, and 5,178 Sunday scholars. They hold church property valued at $271,000, including 32 houses of worship. A thrifty, earnest body, with large annual increase.

The Baptists—who are also congregational in government—have 58 ministers and 62 churches, with 3,000 members. Their other statistics are not reported.

The Disciples—a branch of the Baptists family—probably number 2,000 or more.

The Episcopalians report 45 clergyman and 34 churches, with about 2,000 communicants and 2,600 Sunday scholars. They have a theological school at Benicia, with a dozen students and are zealous for the establishment of schools in every parish—distrusting the public schools as unreligious.

The Unitarians—who have too many centrifugal tendencies and stand too much on individuality to succeed well as organizers—have four congregations and four ministers, with a probable Sunday attendance of 1,000 to 1,200, and a scattered constituency of several thousands more.

The Swedenborgians, or Church of the New Jerusalem, have two small congregations in San Francisco; and there are several minor sects represented in the State.

There cannot be less than 10,000 Jews—who hold fast to the ten commandment and the worship of the Living One—though they have only three or four synagogues.

In round numbers, the Protestants have 400 churches, 400 ministers, 25,000 members, and 25,000 children gathered in Sunday-schools, with a probable attendance at Sunday meetings of 25,000 persons who are not counted as members—making in all a population of 75,000 who are directly under this form of religious instruction and influence.

Of the Catholic population, not more than 75,000 are likely to be reached by the efforts of the priests, making a total of 150,000 nominal Christians. Allowing that the coming census will show a population of 500,000 in California, there are 350,000 outside of any Christian institutions.—San Francisco Bulletin.

THE PRIMEVAL MONUMENTS OF PERU.—E. G. Squier, M. A., the well known antiquarian, describes and illustrates in the American Naturalist for March, certain stone structures in Peru, the existance of which has never before been mentioned by any traveler. They are "coincident in style and character with the cromlechs, dolmens, and 'Sun,' or 'Druidical' circles, so called, of Scandinavia, the British Islands, France, and North and Central Asia." We give the concluding paragraph:

"When they shall come to be fully illustrated, I think all students will coincide with me in my already matured opinion that there exist in Peru and Bolivia, high up among the snowy Andes, the oldest forms of monuments, sepulchral and otherwise, known to mankind; exact counterparts in character of those of the 'old world,' having a common design, illustrating similar conceptions, and all of them the work of the same peoples found in occupation of the country at the time of the Conquest, and whose later monuments are mainly, if not wholly, the developed forms of those raised by their ancestors, and which seem to have been the spontaneous productions of the primitive man in all parts of the world, and not necessarily nor even probably derivative."

It seems that Andrew Johnson finds the shades of Greenville rather irksome, and has determined to visit Europe during the present season. He finds his neighbors disinclined to send him back into public life either in the Senate or House of Representatives. His farm his mill, and his tailor shop have lost their power to give him agreeable employment. His mind unemployed would reflect too keenly upon the mistakes of the later portion of an unhappy political life. To escape such unpleasant reflections it is natural that he should think of going to Europe. As he is now plain Mr. Johnson, no one can object to his going where he chooses, and making as many speeches and leaving everywhere as many constitutions as may be agreeable to himself. Circumstances are greatly changed since the time when we were all humiliated by the memorable "swinging round the circle."

A Boston writer comes to the defense of women against the current notion that they are peculiarly addicted to gossip, alleging that in a country grocery store, among barrels of molasses and piles of salt fish, more gossip is talked by men in one evening than is heard in all the farm houses or the town.

NEGRO ENFRANCHISEMENT.—A fair example of the manner in which the ratification and proclamation of the Fifteenth Amendment have been received at the South, may be found in the following paragraph from the Memphis Avalanche.

"The Fifteenth Amendment has been officially declared a part of the organic law of the land. Africa has been practically put out of the way by being put in the way. He has been declared the equal of the white man before the law. Socially he will be exactly what he makes himself among his own people. He will be the social equal of those whites who choose to accept him as such. Social equality, as all ignoramus or demagogues know, is a question which each man decides for himself. The merchant may look down on the hod-carrier, who in turn, may look down on the boot black. Social waters, like other waters, seek and find their level. Black Lazarus will not enter white Dives' parlor without invitation. He will not attempt to caress the little Diveses without Mrs. Dives' permission. It left to himself he will speedily retire from political strifes and turmoils. He has no political future, and will clamor for spoils only while demagogues seek to use, or make war upon him. His future is in the fields and the workshops—not in the forum. Only his enemies will strive to teach him that his place is in the halls of legislation. The negro has every right and privilege possessed by a white man before the law. The well being of society demands that he become a quiet, orderly, useful citizen. The better to render him such, let the white men sedulously set the example. If they are scrupulous in obedience to law, he will imitate them. If they set the law at defiance, he will not be slow in believing that 'might is right,' and acting on the precept. The negro is an imitative creature, and like those of other hues, quicker to contract vices than virtues. The negro is a citizen. Argument, sophistry, denunciation, cannot divest him of the title and the privileges it involves. His is a large and important element of society. He is here, and here he will remain. It rests with the whites, who exceed him in numbers, intelligence, wealth, education, energy, industry, and civilization, to decide whether he shall become useful or worthless; whether he shall become and remain a good citizen, or a curse to every Southern community."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, April 28, 1870.

Gold was quoted in New York, this morning at 114⅝. This is an advance within the week of ⅜.

Legal tenders are quotable at 85c. This is 1½ above the gold value, but there is constantly nearly that difference between New York and Portland quotations. The higher quotation here is well maintained just now, because of the demand for, and comparative scarcity of, Legal Tenders.

Rates of interest are unchanged—at bank on 30 and 90 day loans, 1½ ℔ cent; outside rates, 1½@1 ℔ cent.

The week, thus far, has been unusually quiet in all circles. The degree of activity among the transportation companies is at this season of the year, always a good outward indice to the amount of business transacted. During this week there has been a very noticeable falling off in the bulk of goods placed on board the various steamers, of all the routes. Wholesale merchants do not deny that business is extremely quiet, though there seems to be no feeling of discouragement manifested in regard to future prospects. It is well known that interior stocks are mostly small, in all directions, and particularly so in Eastern Oregon; and it is generally anticipated that the aggregate of sales for the spring months to supply these deficiencies will be fully up to, if not in excess of, those of any former year. There certainly can be no complaint concerning the business of the first twenty days of this month, whatever may be said of the closing days.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.—There has been some inquiry during the week, but the season opens rather slowly. Harvesting machinery is hardly yet in season. BUILDING MATERIAL.—The demand for lime and cement has been quite fair during the week. Our lumber mills are kept well going, too, to supply the demand for rough building lumber. No changes in quotations. GROCERIES.—Trade unusually quiet. DRY GOODS.—As compared with preceding weeks of this month, business has been very light. HARDWARE.—No particular stir has taken place, dullness being the characteristic of the market. Changes in quotations are not material. Nails held firm. FRUITS.—Most kinds of domestic and imported, are scarce and prices high. Stocks of merchandise are in general very full, and assortments are varied and wide. This market is unquestionably as good a field to purchase in as can be found on the coast.

There is nothing now in the produce market. Very little business is being done. Shipments have greatly fallen off within the last two or three weeks. The Ajax went away the other day with scarcely more than a good ballast cargo of produce, and the Whistler is about to leave for Columbia river landings with less than half a cargo. Receipts from the country are inconsiderable, and the city warehouses are comparatively empty, notwithstanding the late light exports.

The Eugene Guard of last Saturday furnishes the following quotations current at that city: Flour, ℔ bbl $3 50@4 00; Corn Meal, Oregon ground, in bulk, 3c; Wheat, best white, 45@50c; Oats, none in market—farmers sell at 35@35; Beans, retail, 5@6c; Butter, 15c; Cheese, Oregon, 18a20; Eggs, 15c; Potatoes, 37½c; Bacon, retail, sides 12c, hams 14c, shoulders 8a10c; Lard, tins 12c, in bulk 11.

The La Grande Democrat of last Saturday says: "Quite a number of pack-trains have passed through town during the week. This is conclusive evidence that work has commenced in the mines, and that the demand for goods is increasing."

The San Francisco Commercial Herald of a late date has the following article on "Wheat—Past, Present and Future:"

The history of Wheat, in this country, is a very suggestive topic. Formerly, when the land was comparatively new, and the population scarce, the New England States not only produced sufficient for home consumption, but engaged largely in the exportation of wheat and flour, their principal markets being the West India Islands, eastern South America, and Great Britain. Wheat culture was lucrative and attracted general attention; but the constant succession of crops through a long series of years, so decreased the yield that Eastern farmers moved away into New York State, and then commenced the celebrated production of Genesee flour, which held its own with high reputation until the same causes operated there to diminish the yield and deteriorate the quality of the grain. Other and newer land become necessary, and our fast increasing population looked to the westward for farms and the raising of farm products. Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois were the next fields of great productive capacity sought by our constantly moving Northern population, as well as by the immigrants from Germany, Switzerland and England. In every case the same results have followed the successive planting of wheat, while the increasing distance from markets of consumption, and the additional cost of transportation rendered the business less remunerative. We believe that there are now but two Western States—Iowa and Minnesota—where there has not been a marked decrease in the yield of wheat to the acre. The aggregate production has been swelled by a very largely increased area under cultivation, but it may be doubted whether the amount of wheat now raised in the United States is relatively as great, in proportion to the population, as it was forty years ago. If we raise more of the article, it is because there are more people engaged in its cultivation, and the area has been correspondingly expanded. The course of wheat culture, like the course of empire, has been westward on this continent, and its march is still maintained with unrelaxed vigor. The vital question among Western farmers to-day is, how to market their wheat at the cheapest possible rates, and as they recede more and more to the westward, deeper and deeper into the heart of the continent, this question presents augmented difficulties for its solution. When the great wheat fields of the country shall exist west of the Mississippi river, and commence to be formed on our immense prairies now roamed by the bison and the time is rapidly approaching, by reason of decreased yield in other places it will be impossible to compete with California, Oregon and Washington Territory. With our enormously extensive line of seacoast, our immensity of virgin soil, the superiority of our climate, and the constantly growing facilities to market our crops, farmers residing fifteen hundred to two thousand miles from tide water will find it impossible to compete successfully. The Pacific coast must eventually become the great wheat producing region of the Union. In the meantime Great Britain, France, and Germany—the three greatest consumers are steadily diminishing. Their populations are decreasing under the influence of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to emigrate to this country. West [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] from this side of the continent.

In making up their estimates for the year, English and German dealers take the Russian crops into account, making up the deficit from the United States. Russia has, aside all that part of Europe which borders on the Black Sea and the Sea of Azof, a territory fully fertile and admirably adapted to wheat culture, but it is indispensable that the crops should ripen and be harvested at a certain time, as the climate will not permit delay. The Russian Government has been devoting great attention to the furnishing of transportation facilities to these regions and to the wheat producing sections on the north, by means of which the crops can be marketed far cheaper than heretofore, and in greatly increased quantities. Nor is this all, for the Russians are importing largely of our improved agricultural implements. Patent mowers and reapers, patent threshing machines, improved plows and rakes, and all other kinds of labor-saving American implements, are being introduced with great success. It is, therefore, probable that, in the near future, Russia will be able to furnish a much greater supply of food staples, at lower rates than ever, caused by the cheapness of labor and the improvement in the method of cultivation. As the populations of consuming countries have no proportionable increase, the demand must lessen, and the price of wheat be lowered all over the globe. China and Japan are, however, becoming greater consumers of our wheat and flour, and our breadstuffs trade is gradually improving with Russian Pacific possessions, Mexico, South America, and the Islands of the Pacific. The conclusion is, that we must not, hereafter, expect to realize the prices obtained in 1866-67-68, which were exceptional, that the Pacific Coast must become one the great wheat exporter of America; and that Russia will be about our only competitor in the world's markets.

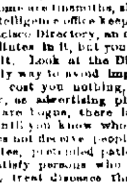
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 257.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.
